PROFILE

With over four years of professional software engineering experience, I have honed my skills in building robust solutions. However, as my interest in blockchain technology grew, I recognized its immense potential and made a deliberate shift in my career to specialize in this transformative field. To immerse myself in the blockchain ecosystem, I proactively pursued online learning opportunities, actively participated in forums like buildspace and developer_dao, and engaged in industry events. As a testament to my commitment, I joined Solidus Labs, where I dedicated myself to developing DeFi solutions with a specific focus on compliance.
